What/who are they?

People forced to leave their country in order to escape war, persecution, or natural disaster.

Refugees

Scale of global crisis today

We are in the midst of the largest refugee crisis since WWII: 64mn
They mainly flee Afghanistan, Iraq, Somalia, Syria

About half are children (<18 years)
>30mn displaced … ≈ Total pop of NY/New England

… or >40% the child population of the US

Average duration of displacement … 17 years

In 2015, someone forced to flee every 2.5 seconds!
Geography of Missing/Dead Refugees

Through Nov. 10, 5,675 human migrant deaths vs. 5,729 all of 2015 (compare against 2,996 killed in 9/11 attacks)

... and think of those less fortunate

“Walaa, 5, wants to go home. She had her own room in Aleppo, she tells us. There, she never used to cry at bedtime. Here, in the refugee camp, she cries every night. Resting her head on the pillow is horrible, she says, because nighttime is horrible. That was when the attacks happened. By day, Walaa’s mother often builds a little house out of pillows, to teach her that they are nothing to be afraid of.”

Closing thoughts

Pope Francis:
“Facing the tragedy of tens of thousands of refugees — fleeing death by war and famine, and journeying towards the hope of life — the Gospel calls, asking of us to be close to the smallest and forsaken. To give them a concrete hope, and not just to tell them: ‘Have courage, be patient!’”

Archbishop Kurtz, President of the US Conference of Catholic Bishops:
"... [We urge] all Catholics in the United States and others of good will to express openness and welcome to these refugees, who are escaping desperate situations in order to survive. Regardless of their religious affiliation or national origin, these refugees are all human persons—made in the image of God, bearing inherent dignity, and deserving our respect and care and protection by law from persecution."
