

CURRICULUM VITAE

Obrian Ndhlovu

Contact: Dept of Economics, University of Zambia, Lusaka. Email: obriandhlovu@yahoo.com,

Education

2009 - 2010	M.Sc. Economics for Development (University of Oxford)
2004 - 2008	B.A. in Economics with Statistics (University of Zambia)

Short Training

2008	Training in Qualitative Operational Research, (Afya Mzuri-Lusaka)
2003	Certificate in Child Health Promotion, (Care International-Lusaka)

Work Experience

Years	Work
2010 to date	Lecturer, Department of Economics, University of Zambia. Duties include conducting Lectures and Researches and Consultancies, both academic and applied.
April –June, 2008	Research Officer for Afya Mzuri , a Non-Governmental Organisation. Responsibilities included formulating Research Plans and its execution

Articles

Simuyemba, M.C., O. Ndhlovu , F. Moyo, E. Kashinka, A. Chompola, A. Sinyangwe, F. Masiye (2020) Real-time evaluation pros and cons: Lessons from the Gavi Full Country Evaluation in Zambia. Evaluation . https://doi.org/10.1177/1356389019901314
Ndhlovu, O. and V. Seshamani (2016) The linkage between price and output of cotton in Zambia. African Journal of Agricultural Economics and Rural Development . Vol 4(4), pp 328-336. http://internationalscholarsjournals.org/download.php?id=972712103825761429.pdf&type=application/pdf&op=1
Seshamani V. and O. Ndhlovu (2016) Prospects for the Formation of Developmental States in Africa: the case of Zambia. International Review of Research in Emerging Markets and the Global Economy . Vol 2 (1), pp 757-773. http://globalbizresearch.org/files/6043_irrem_venkatesh-seshamani_obrian-ndhlovu-380849.pdf
Ndhlovu, O. (2013) Book Reviews: Gender Budgeting as a Tool for Poverty Reduction by the African Capacity Building Foundation. Zambia Journal of Social Sciences . Vol. 2(1), pp 94-95. http://scholarship.law.cornell.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=1022&context=zssj

Working Paper

Ndhlovu, O. and E. Muchapondwa (2020). Smallholder Farmers' Response to Climate Change in Zambia: What are the Drivers and Hindrances? Environment for Development Discussion Paper No. 20-38.
--

Chapter in a Book

Mphuka, C., M. Mfunwa, O. Ndhlovu, & P. Chikwekwete (2020) Monetary Union in Southern Africa: Is SADC Ready? In S. Adejumobi & C.L. Obi (ed) Developmental Regionalism and Economic Transformation in Southern Africa. Routledge.

Books

Seshamani, V. and O. Ndhlovu (2016) Statistical Methods for Economic Analysis, Lusaka, Printech Ltd.

Seshamani, V., Ndhlovu, O., and Mwale, T., (2014) Mathematical Optimisation and Programming Techniques for Economics Analysis. Fort Mumbai, Urmegh Printers.

Researches and Consultancies

Years	Research/Consultancy
2014 to 2018	Researcher – GAVI Full Country Evaluation. This was a multi-year real-time evaluation of the Expanded Programme on Immunisation in Zambia, working with IHME of the University of Washington.
2012-2013	Lead Researcher - Study of small scale farmers with the objective of assessing the impact of the introduction of weather index insurance (WII) on smallholder farmers. The survey was funded by MicroEnsure of UK.
2012	Editorial Team: “Issues on the Zambian Economy: Bank of Zambia Reader Volume 5, 2012”
2012	Consultant – “An Assessment of the Zambian Healthcare Market”. The research was commissioned by the Healthstore Foundation of the USA. The objective was to provide pertinent information on the characteristics of the Zambian Health Sector
2011	Consultant – Gender Awareness Policy Appraisal – Farmer Input Support Programme Aim was to analyse FISP’s contribution to gender equality.
2011	Principal Researcher – Health Budget Analysis with specific reference to North Western province of Zambia. An analysis of policy and expenditure related to recruiting, training and retaining equitable professional health staff in rural parts of Zambia.

Computer applications/packages

Expert knowledge in	Stata, SPSS, Nvivo, Tableau, Latex and Microsoft packages.
Beginner knowledge in	R-project

Referees (Available on request)